The congratulations and notes of interest in the Centennial Edition last week are appreciated by The Herald staff.

A couple of tons of newsprint ran through the press here before we could say the issue was complete.

Incidentally, there are extra copies available for folks who would like to mail a copy to former residents of Cameron. We are happy to say that as many as a dozen copies are going to some readers who are sending the edition to friends and relatives.

101 - 101 - 101

The sun shone down on Cameron this week in one of its few appearances on the Central Texas stage. With the rain, rain, rain that has been our weather fare the past weeks, it was almost blinding to the eye earlier this week.

Here's hoping for many repeat performances, particularly for Milam County farmers who need to clear fields of late cotton or need to plow under stalks already picked.

101 - 10 - 101

Santa's due in town in about another week. Cameron was reminded of the Christmas season when workmen put up the downtown Christmas decorations early this week.

Seems like Santa has a way of slipping up on us the past few years. First it's Thanksgiving then without warning, it's Christmas.

We sometimes think we don't miss the holidays as much as we do the days in between.

The last time we noticed, it was Halloween; but that was October. They don't make calendars like they used to.

Mummified Body

To Be Exhibited

2 Days In Cameron

The real body of Marie O'Day murdered night club entertainer whose body reportedly was found beneath the pavilion on the shores of the Great Salt Lake 12 years after she had disappeared and still in a perfect state of mummified preservation, will be exhibited in Cameron, it was announced by the Police Department which is sponsoring the exhibition Friday and Saturday, Dec. 2 and 3.

Chief Elvin Hoskins invites the general public to view the unusual exhibit. The entertainer's body in its preserved state was attributed to the 26 per cent of salt chemical content present in the water of the Great Salt Lake. Miss O'Day's story is said never to have been duplicated.

Chief Hoskins said that the exhibitor invites doctors, nurses and undertakers to inspect the body to convince themselves that the girl was once alive, that here is a real human body.

The Police Department realizes 25 per cent of the gate during the exhibition. The body can be viewed in a special van which will be parked on South East Corner of the Court House Square.

Gunshot Wounds

Dale Rinn In Leg

Dale Rinn, Houston, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Rinn of Cameron, is in St. Edward's Hospital today following an accidental gunshot wounding of his left leg.

Rinn was getting ready to go on a deerhunt with his grandfather, Dale Fuller, Monday when the accident occurred.

While strapping on a hunting knife, Rinn knocked his 22-caliber pistol from its holster. The hammer of the gun struck the floor and fired a bullet through the calf of his leg just below the knee cap.

Crews Erect Decorations For Christmas

Street decorations are up throughout Cameron business district for the 1960 Santa Parade due December 8 and Christmas season.

Chamber Expects

Large Turnout

For Yule March

Santa Claus will be the featured attraction Thursday December 8, when the Cameron Christmas parade tours the downtown streets of this city.

Last year the parade attracted 7,500 county visitors and a large crowd is expected for the 1960 renewal of the Cameron Chamber of Commerce Yule event.

The Yoe High School and Rogers High School bands will appear in the parade, according to Chamber Manager Jack DuBois.

Just about every type of organization will be represented including school, Scout, state and city police and sheriff's department, automotive and equipment companies, church and school float entries and Santa's sleigh.

DuBois said cash prizes will be awarded by the Cameron Chamber for the four best floats, judged on overall beauty, originality and workmanship.

The parade will be formed at the Santa Fe Depot, about 3:30 the day of the parade and will follow a traditional route through downtown Cameron.

Deadline for float or marching unit entries is Monday, December 5, DuBois said.

Santa Claus will alight from his sleigh at the courthouse Square following the parade and meet his thousands of admirers. Santa will give away candy provided by the Chamber and packaged by the Cameron Business & Professional Women's Club.

Unanimous Vote Sets '50 Class Reunion In 1965

The Yoe High School Homemaking department was the scene Saturday night for the gathering of 33 former classmates and teachers of the class of 1950. The parlor was appointed with arrangements of yellow mums.

After registering the group was called to order by Alton Fuchs and led in prayer by Mrs. E. J. Brock. Hensarling won the prize group and asked each to introduce himself and give a brief history of his life since Yoe High graduation.

Lions Club Hears Story Of Ideal Hatchery Growth

Alton Fuchs and Lester Byrd told of the Ideal Hatchery and Poultry Farm breeding program and of their recent trip to Madrid, Spain at the Cameron Lions Club Luncheon meeting Monday.

Fuchs told of the founding of the hatchery and poultry farm in 1937 by Mr. and Mrs. Leo Fuchs. He pointed out that in 1950 they realized that to compete with large nation - wide producers they needed to improve their strain of bird.

By 1956 through a strain - crossing program the "Ideal H-3-W" chick had been perfected. Since 1956 the Ideal H-3-W has made an outstanding record in competition against some of the nation's top, widely distributed layers. Today Ideal has franchised hatcheries in fourteen states and three foreign countries.

Alton Fuchs and Lester Byrd made a trip to Madrid Spain in October where they signed a contract to license a Spanish firm to handle the chickens from Texas. At the close of their Lions Club program they showed pictures of their trip and discussed their impressions of Spain and its people.

Britan Lashes Soviet 'Union'

Great Britain again gave Soviet Russia a bit of her own investive this week in challenging Russia's domination of satellite countries.

A spokesman for the British fired a volley countering Russian charges against UN trusteeships as "outmoded instruments" of colonial powers.

The cross fire opened a week-long debate on UN directorship of dependent nations. Russia wants immediate independence for all people living under such trusteeships.

Britain's David Ormsby-Gore accused Russia of wishing to "vilify my country and its allies, and for carrying the cold war into Africa."

Britain had granted independence to countries having about 500 million population since 1939, he told the UN General Assembly.

He then listed about 22 million people in six countries "forcibly incorporated into the Soviet Union," including Lithuania, Estonia and Latvia.

Russia's facing the fire that was started by Britain's Prime Minister Macmillan during the Khrushchev visit to the UN. It was for Britain to blast Khrushchev for Russian colonialism. And it was these charges that caused the Russian premier to pull his shoe from his foot and wave it at Macmillan during the speech.

Russia can fast become known as the colonial power it is if more anti-propaganda of this nature is hurled in their face. Russia has been successful in turning world opinion with the most concentrated array of distortions since Hitler discovered Goebbels.

If propaganda is countered with the true picture of Russian ambition and conquest, then the world will begin to understand the leftest extreme of the choices.

There is one thing people dread more than hunger and marginal livelihood. And that would be enslavement. Hurrah for Britain and their ability to "call the kettle black."

I Give You Texas

There was a young newspaper reporter in a Nevada mining town many years ago. He and two friends staked out a claim but each thought the other would do the small amount of work that had to be done within 30 days to complete the title - and so they lost the claim. The new ownership developed one of the richest gold mines in Virginia City.

Anyone would say that for a man to lose a million dollars is certainly a misfortune - but the newspaperman was Mark Twain. If in his twenties, he had had riches dumped in his lap, he might not have had the incentive to write and so the world would have lost "Tom Sawyer" and "Huckleberry Finn".

Sometimes, what appears to be a misfortune later proves not to have been.

When Billy Rose (with whom I worked at the Fort Worth Casa Manana in 1936 and 1937) was a young man, he had an ambition to write songs so he went to the New York City library and studied titles, tunes and techniques of the hit songs of the past dozen years. Then he composed such favorites as "Wedding Bells are Breaking up That Old Gang of Mine" and "Without a Song."

It is said that a newspaper writer, who was sent on an out-of-town assignment, returned to New York by a different route than the managing editor had instructed him as the writer figured it made no difference, anyhow. But the Johnstown flood hit just then and, if he had gone the route he had been told, he would have been the first out of town newspaperman on the scene. The result was that when he got back to New York, he was fired.

In Big Spring, a drive-in cafe features a "chicken gizzard basket." And in Abilene, the slogan of the Hill & Hill Company is, "Head for the Hills."

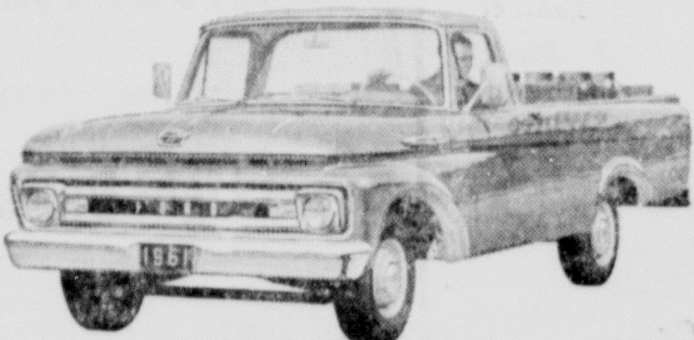

Lee St. Momain has recently joined the staff of the Heart 'O Texas Council, Boy Scouts of America. He will serve the Texas District which includes Bremond in Robertson County, Falls and Milam Counties. He is a graduate of Baylor University, formerly of Lott and will make his home in Cameron.

Voting Method May Be Changed

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — New efforts to change Texas' "scratch method" of voting are in prospect as a result of disagreements growing out of this year's close general election.

As the law now stands, voters using paper ballots are required to scratch out the names of all candidates for an office except the one for whom they are casting their vote.

In this year's election, thousands of voters scratched either the Republican or Democratic candidates but didn't notice or bother to scratch the small lists of candidates from the Prohibition and Constitution parties. Some election judges threw out these ballots. Some went ahead and counted them.

Republican leaders contend that they might have won Texas, instead of losing by a thin margin, if the same rule had been applied on all these carelessly marked ballots.

Further, the GOP chiefs charge, the scratch method was designed to encourage voters to vote a straight party ticket.

Actually, scratching is the old, traditional way of voting in Texas. For a time during the fifties the law was changed so that a voter could either scratch out the names he didn't want or put check marks by the ones he did want.

LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER

Nothing To The Report That A
Dollar Is Now Worth Only 42c

Dear editor:

I have run into a financial problem which I need help on. Well, actually it's not a problem, it's mostly a lot of people's economic ignorance.

I read in a newspaper last night which the wind had blown against my front fence yesterday afternoon and I pulled it off in a hurry because that fence can stand just so much pressure, that the American dollar is now worth only 42 cents.

I can report that there's not a word of truth in this, as I went to eight different stores in town this morning and couldn't find anybody who'd sell me one at that price. People around here apparently don't read the financial section of newspapers and everybody still wants 100 cents for theirs, and acted like there wouldn't be any profit in that sort of deal. A man can't get ahead against that kind of economic ignorance. Even when I showed them the article, they just laughed.

For a week now I have been concentrating on the money situation in the world and am as exhausted as the four candidates for President and Vice President and the only reason I don't fly somewhere for a rest in the sun like they did is that I don't have an airplane and anyway have found I can use the same sun they're using without getting off this Johnson grass farm.

As I understand it, the money situation is complicated by the fact too much gold is leaving the United States, plus the fact the Russians have voted that a ruble now has more fold content than it did last month, even if it's still printed on the same kind of paper.

One expert said the reason gold was leaving this country was because the U. S. was believed figuring on increasing the price of the stuff about $35 an ounce, which it's not, he says, because that would be de-valuing the dollar. You may understand this but I don't. It frustrates my brain so much that the only way I've found to regain peace of mind is to get on the south side of the barn in the sunshine and re-read both party's platform promises.

People are always saying that a dollar won't go as far as it used to, but I don't understand this either. Actually, I've never know how far a dollar of mine went. As soon as it leaves my hands, I lose track of it. It's slammed into somebody's cash register and that's the last I hear of it.

I will appreciate it if you'll take time off from your other duties and explain the monetary system to me and the rest of your readers.

Yours faithfully,

But this either - or approach was even more confusing, both to the voters and ballot counters. So the legislature changed back to the scratch - out method only.

Republican leaders failed to convince either an Austin district court or the state canvassing board (Gov. Price Daniel, Sec'y of State Zollie Steakley and Atty. Gen. Will Wilson) that there was any evidence of fraud in the way ballots were counted this year.

But since the Legislature hardly even has a session without doing something to the election code, the GOP will have another inning.

LAND BOND SALE DISPUTED

House General Investigating Committee will study the merits of sale Dec. 5.

Veterans Land Board has scheduled sale of $12,500,000 in bonds for that date, but Jerry Sadler, due to become land commissioner Jan. 1, says the sale should wait until next year. Sadler said that, because of the upcoming change of federal administrations, interest rates might be lower next year. This would enable the state to sell the bonds at a lower rate, paying less for the money it borrows.

Voters by approving a constitutional amendment Nov. 8, authorized the Land Board to pay up to 3.5 per cent interest on the bonds. Previous ceiling had been 3 per cent - too low to find takers in recent months.

COURT BACK TRACKS

In a rare turnaround, the State

Supreme Court reversed its previous decision on an insurance case that construed shock from watching a fire to be "accidental death."

In the case, an accountant died from a blood clot on the brain about a month after having watched fire destroy his office records. Two lower courts held that the beneficiaries of the accountant's insurance policies were entitled to the indemnity provided for accidental death.

Several months ago the Supreme Court issued a 5 - to - 4 decision upholding the lower courts. On motion for re-hearing, it reversed this and held, again 5 - to - 4 that the case was not "accidental death".

Plans for a 3-day training program in Waco, Dec. 23 - 25 have been announced by Jehovah's Witnesses' headquarters in New York the Watchtower Society.

Fred Starnes, congregation servant of the witnesses in Cameron, observed, "With the tide of materialism rising, the normal and spiritual fiber of the individual today is being put through the 'acid test'."

"Witnesses gather internationally for the same purpose," he stated, "just as when 180,000 made their way from 123 lands to take in Bible instruction on Christian activity and enjoy association at New York City's Yankee Stadium and nearby Polo Grounds in 1958."

"With this spirit and purpose," Starnes concluded, "Jehovah's witnesses now view Waco as they anticipate their assembly at the Waco Arena."

A very interesting color slide program on "Tropical Enchantment" was given by Mr. and Mrs. Joe

View On Sports

If sweeping a four game series in his first outing of the year would make a basketball coach happy, then Jack Larimore was a happy man Tuesday night.

His Yoemen-roundballers toppled Rogers four times by 8, 9, 11 and 17 point margins. This feat included, of course, the 7th and 8th grade, B team, and varsity squad.

The A team has only a week's practice behind them and still aren't as good as they can be. There will be more man-to-man defence work for the team this week plus extra emphasis placed on speed and shooting.

Senior David Barkemeyer repeated his form of the last two years by scoring 21 points. Pat Dillon was a pleasant surprise as he wily 130 pounder scored 10 times and combined with team mate Bobby Griswold in putting on a real pass-shoot-point exhibition.

From the B squad, Dan Brashhear garnered 13 points and played the hustling kind of ballgame every fan likes to see.

VOS

The absence of Chris Gay, Carl Fikes and several others on the court is credited to the weight-lifting program being planned by Coach Bates and Johnson. The program's main objective is to keep the Yoemen gridiron candidates in shape throughout the winter months.

A H Team Victorious Over Rogers 13-4

The 7th and 8th grade teams of Ada Henderson both tasted victory Tuesday night in Cameron when their roundballers dropped Rogers, 13 - 4 and 26 - 18.

The 8th graders were led by Mike Perrin and Dickie Ponder, each scoring 8 points; Laurence Laffere got 6 and Phil Eanes 4. The C team never was behind, as they scored 9 times in the first quarter, 5 in the second, 6 in the third and 6 in the 4th.

Rogers was held to 6 in the first, 2 in the second, 7 in the third, and 3 in the last frame.

Poster paced the Rogers bunch with 14 points; Young and Killough got 2.

The 7th grade game was a one-sided contest all the way, as Rogers was held scoreless up until the last quarter when they pinched out 4 points.

Led by Mack McKinney's 8 points the Cameronites got 9, 2, 2, and 0 in the 4th period. James Hoskins got 3 points and Eugene Wallace accounted for the final 2 Yoe tallies.

This is about birds "scree" birds. Birds you've seen, but seldom read about.

They are called several names most of them unprintable.

Hunting season is a good time to mention them. If you recognize yourself as one of these birds well and good especially if you're man enough to change your feathers, or at least change your thinking or your attitude.

All of us have our faults. None of us possesses all these failings. Thank good ness. But if you are one of these birds may be you shouldn't go hunting at all. Maybe you should stay home and give some thought to correcting your faults.

On the other hand, maybe you can do something about it. If you can you'll gain the respect of your hunting companions as well as all other men and women in the field.

Cards of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere thanks to all of the friends and neighbors who sent flowers, food and messages of condolence at the time of our loss.

Parkview Nursing Home announces construction of a new wing to be opened Jan. 1, 1961. All new modern facilities, year around air conditioning. Trained 24 hr. nursing staff. "A Home where your loved one receives personal care."

Minimum rates: $125.00, Maximum, $250.00. Vacancies now available. Clara Hargrave, RN, Owner and Operator. 2129 N. 4th St. PL 6-5181, Waco. 34-7tc and the stream.

First we want to call attention to is the heavy-footed FENCE HAWK. He rides the fences for all they are worth. He spreads the barbed wire enclosures so wide you could drive a truck through them.

Crawling through one of the openings he makes in a barbed wire fence is a snap. In fact, he is so heavy footed and so strong armed that he pops the staples clear out of the posts.

Then he is wont to say, "They just don't make them staples like they usta!"

Another fine-feathered friend is the SNIPERFLICKER.

He's the bird who tosses away cigarette stubs and cigar butts with reckless abandon.

This addleheaded snipeflicker has cost Uncle Sam (that's you and me, Bub) millions of dollars in fire damage to timber and wildlife.

He's not careless in our book. He's just one bird that doesn't give a hoot. If his grandchildren have no place to hunt, it makes no difference to him. What the heck does he care about the future? He won't be here anyway.

This bird's even worse than the MIGRATORY LITTERBIRD. That creature has the same attitude, true enough. Also - the same lack of respect for the property of others. And the lack of appreciation of what has been made available to him by the farmer, or the same lack of appreciation of fish commission. He's a litterbird wherever he goes.

Often wonder what his home looks like inside don't you? Betcha there are banana peels everywhere, apple cores all over the house and empty beer cans scattered about every room.

Goodness knows what the messy place really looks like. Sure couldn't be a very tidy spot inside judging by the way this bird litters up the outdoors.

There are plenty of other creatures of the woods and waves.

For example the REDEYED SWALLOWER better known as the BOOEYBIRD.

No need for them to wear heavy hunting clothes. He's fired up internally.

Why be a comfortable 98 degrees, body-temperature bird, when you can feather your nest with 100-proof alcohol and feel oh so light-headed?

Actually this bird isn't light-headed, he's empty headed. There are just no brain cells in that ivory-covered skull. Couldn't be, or he wouldn't be out hunting in that condition.

And, anyone who hunts with him better be a ROADRUNNER and in the finest trim. Otherwise he'll never make it back to camp alive.

The BOOEYBIRD, incidentally more often than not is part SNIPERFLICKER and part LITTERBIRD. They seem to team together in the roughest sort of way.

The REDEYED SWALLOWER also has many traits common to the LARGEMOUTH GROUSE a very loquacious and vociferous animal. Much of his time is allocated to complaints that are reminiscent of the BELLYACHING BULLFROG, who's not even a part of the feathery tribe.

While we're at it, let's not overlook the DIMWITTED WOODSROCK. He's the hot-tempered animal who clobbers the park fountain if it fails to work. He does so with the park bench and he doesn't care which collapses first, so long as his temper is not restrained.

You've seen this bird I know. I'm talking about the SNEAKY EYED WOODPECKER. He transfers shrubbery from the field to his own front yard.

Not to be overlooked is the LARGE POCKETED CAMPROBER. He is known to have carried off the grate from the roadside barbecue pits, to appropriate it for his own use. Neither does he think anything of totting all the extra state park firewood home with him.

Then there's the REDHATTED LOON who doesn't know the difference (or care) between a 12-point buck and the farmer's choice Jersey Cow. He's the farmer's delight. But only if the cow is heavily insured.

Too, let's not forget the ROOST-TERTAILED WATERTHRASHER. He's the speed demon of the waterways. This gink "wakes up" the fishermen with mammoth man-made waves. He goils them up as close to the angler's boat as the law allows if not closer.

All these birds are fun-spoilers for everyone else. Evidently all they are out for is a lark.

These birds are not legal game. But more than one hunter thinks they should be. Among those who think so are the farmers whose cows are killed; the landowners whose fences are torn down; and the hunters whose lives are endangered.

Let's not spoil the fun for anyone. As we take to the field for a day of pleasant hunting, let's be more considerate of "the other fellow". Let's give thanks to those who make this great sport possible. And let's do our part to make it an event for all to enjoy and to live to remember.
